OFFICE OF THE Westinghouse

In order that so one may be misled by the statements of the owners of the Edison patents with regard to the effect of the recent decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appenis for the Southern District of New York, austaining the second claim of Mr. Edison's incandes-cent lamp patent (the other three claims having been held by the Court not to be intringed), we beg to an-nounce to our customers and to users of incandescent electric lamps generally that we are prepared to re-ceive orders for the delivery in quantities, after Decem-ber 1. of our new incandescent lamps, the manufacture of which has been established at our Pittaburg factory.

These lamps not only do not infringe the Editon patent above referred to nor any of the patents of other companies, but they are The new lamp differs radically from those now in use,

It requires no plat num and is made in separable parts. that the incandescent burner can be renewed and the bulb and other parts of the lamp used over and over. Furthermore, by means of an important discov-ery, the burner is rendered stable, its efficiency increased, its iffe prolonged, and its normal candle power btained from the re-use of the bulba, a saving of from cent lamps for a given service will be effected.

These lamps are in appearance a decided improve-ment over those now in use, and when used with a new socket designed for the purpose a further reduction to the cost of lamp renewals will be effected, as no basattachment is required to make the connection with the socket.

We are prepared to make advantageous time contracts with the users of incapdescent lamps, with im portant allowances for the return of the buibs to our
